A one player game. Battle over 120 computer generated enemies.

GAME STORY

Five hundred years ago in a galaxy just south of the belt of Orion in the southern sky, there dwelt a race of people who were in many ways just like us...with a couple of differences. They believed in magic; and, oh yeah, I almost forgot, many of them were mutants. Thousands had been transformed; sometimes for good, sometimes for evil, by horrible wars that took place over thousands of years.

This ancient race lived by a warrior code of honor, that believed in individual battle. Each warrior was part of a large clan based on the type of produce the clan made or sold. These groups often fought wars of commerce over which foods could be sold in stores.

The most bitter fighting was often over products that we would describe as snack foods. Hence, there began the ever enduring saga known today as the Barcode Store Wars.

Battle Ninjas, Samurai's, Berserkers, Mystics, Amazons, Gun Masters, Paladins, Mutants, Mega-Monsters and Androids. Defeat the Waste Doctor and his powerful henchmen and recover the keys to time and space.

Choose from a series of collectable Barcode Cards. Select a warrior and a wizard. Use weapons and other cards to enhance your powers. As you defeat enemies your strength increases. Search for lost keys, passwords, hidden levels...save and reload your games.
